REVES DAYS 2018

REVES, the European Network of Cities and Regions for the Social Economy, and Tuscany Region, are glad to announce the "REVES DAYS 2018"!

During three days, participants will have the possibility to exchange on topics relating to the social economy as a factor of sustainable and responsible development in Europe.

More specifically, debates will be organised around the social economy as a topic in formal and informal education, the role of the social economy for community empowerment and ways to measure social impact of the social economy in communities.

Furthermore, specific (parallel) workshops will deal with some "hot topics", such as the development of cooperative platforms, social innovation as an instrument for regional and local partnership and the perspectives of co-creation of public policies. Each session will be introduced by the presentation of case studies. Study visits to local initiatives, as well as speed dating sessions, will complement the programme.

A final political session will deal with the future of EU cohesion policy and the potential partnership between regional/local authorities and social economy represents for effective programming and implementation of this policy.
